

E-Valentine's

My first sketch idea is based on all of the Valentine's day e-cards that people send to each other on this holiday.

I find it interesting that these cards (As awesome as they are) are sent on this day because they are so meaningless; In my opinion e-cards are easily discarded, and the people who get them will not save them or give them much thought. I want to animate an e-card so that it is more pleasing to the eyes and so that people want to share it with others.

E-Valentine's Print

Having a card to put on the wall is very different from just receiving an e-card that will probably be discarded later. I will be exploring the importance of print and the longevity of both e-cards and printed cards by working on both.

I love Valentine's Day (not)

My second sketch is based on all of the people that don't like or dislike Valentine's day. For some it's just another day of the year. For this sketch I am going to interpret Valentine's day as 'just another day'.

Happy Valentines Day.

Let's celebrate the uniqueness of our romance with some random self-referential ecard I found on the internet.

Let's celebrate not having to celebrate Valentine's Day.

Valentine's U suck cards

Some people enjoy the Irony of Valentine's Day cards, so for my third sketch idea I thought that I should try my own satire valentine's card but also adding some animation maybe.
